The Signal Transducer and Activator of Transcription-3 as a target for cancer therapy. The Signal Transducer and Activator of Transcription (STAT)-3, a member of STAT family of transcription factors, is a key regulator of survival and proliferation of human cancers. STAT-3 is constitutively activated in many tumors, including breast, colon, lung, and leukemia, and its activation is associated with poor prognosis. In contrast, genetic ablation of STAT-3 can induce cell death of cancer cells through induction of apoptosis and cell cycle arrest. On the basis of these evidences, it is postulated that STAT-3 can be used as a target for cancer therapy. In this review, we discuss the role of STAT-3 in oncogenesis and the antitumor effects of inhibiting STAT-3. Finally, we speculate on how STAT-3-targeted therapy may be implemented in clinical trials for cancer patients.

Q: jquery sortable using jquery ui not working I am using the sortable library of jquery UI to drag and drop elements. But the problem is when I drop the element in the container, it is getting the position, but it is not sorting. The droppable is working fine. I am missing something here. function sortable() { var connections = []; $(' .block').each(function () { var $el = $(this), $drop = $(this).find(' .block-droppable'), pos = $el.position(); var set = { x: pos.left + "px", y: pos.top + "px" };
