At the end of regular trading, the Dow Jones Industrial Average was up 140.73 points, or 0.72 percent, at 22,722.01. The Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was up 6.44 points, or 0.28 percent, at 2,444.88. The Nasdaq Composite was up 22.69 points, or 0.38 percent, at 6,433.75. Stocks plunged in the wake of the disappointing January employment data that showed a sharp loss of jobs, just as a string of strong U.S. economic reports has failed to boost markets. The employment data was even worse than feared. The unemployment rate rose 0.1 percentage point to 7.7 percent. The news helped push bonds sharply higher, as interest rates have fallen to historic lows and many investors sought 77a5ca646e

Wsnap is a screen capture tool that lets you take a screenshot of any portion of the screen. With this software in place, you can quickly create snapshots for your product page, multimedia presentation, technical manual, or a web article. Screenshots make your publication look appealing and more informative. Sometimes a single look at a screenshot is more helpful in understanding the functional peculiarity of a product than a page of the most detailed textual description. Unique to Wsnap is its ability to capture almost all screen elements, including 3D games, Flash animations, cascading menus and more. All this is done with one mouse click. Wsnap is a software that helps you make screenshots and edit them. Wsnap has a simple user interface that takes you a minute and a few clicks here and there to get started with your first screenshot. You can use the tool to capture the entire screen, active windows, controls, cascading and floating menus, as well as rectangular, elliptic, rounded corners and freehand areas. The program lets you capture the mouse pointer and add any watermark you want. Once the screenshot has been captured, you can save it to a file in the four most popular formats such as BMP, JPG, PNG and GIF. Additionally, the screenshot can be copied to the clipboard, opened in an external editor, published on the web, or sent by email. Wsnap can be customized to suite your particular needs. If you are a fully fledged typist, you can customize hotkeys to trigger a particular capture action at a specified keystroke. With the hotkey support, you can capture a screenshot while working with another application. To be more productive, Wsnap provides you with the ability to make a list of actions that will be automatically executed, once the screenshot has been captured. This includes all the after capture actions you do with mouse clicks, for example, saving the screenshot to a file, coping to the clipboard, adding a watermark, or scaling the output to fit the required size.
