Selective color: Color-based selection tools help you define the areas of an image that contain a specific color. Color matching: This feature is most commonly used to automatically adjust the brightness, contrast, or color of images, but it also can be used to make images look more like the original. Blur: The Blur adjustment layer lets you apply a Gaussian Blur to an image, which is similar to the effect created by a soft focus lens. Filter: You can apply an existing filter from the Filter menu to an image. Adjustment layers Add any adjustment layer to your image for some added creative control.
